

QUIGG'S SCALP PLATT'S OFFERING.

At That Price the Leader Made Peace with the Triumvirate.

CHAIRMAN TO BE DEPOSED.

Payn - Black - Aldridge Combine
Demanded It, and Lauterbach Will Succeed Him.

GOVERNOR FOR THE SENATE.

Hostilities Against the Tiogan Only
Suspended When He Had Acceeded to All the Enemy's Political Demands.

Chairman Lemuel E. Quigg's political enemies have organized to depose him from the chairmanship of the Republican County Committee after the Mayoralty election is over. Even now, in the heat of the battle, when they are working shoulder to shoulder with him in the common effort to elect General Tracy and the Republican candidates, they are secretly planning to overthrow him as soon as the fight is over. The plan contemplates putting Edward Lauterbach back in his old place at the head of the committee.

Don F. Payn, Mr. Quigg's old enemy, is the ruling spirit behind the movement, and back of him are the other members of the State combine—Governor Black and Superintendent of Public Works George W. Aldridge. This trio of State leaders, who, in conjunction with Jacob Worth, originally laid plans to depose Senator Platt from the control of the Republican party in the State, only suspended hostilities against Platt after they had exacted from him what they wanted.

And their price was the decapitation of Mr. Quigg in addition to the promise that Governor Black should receive the support of the Republican machine for United States Senator to succeed Edward Murphy, Jr., the Democratic incumbent.

The successful termination of this movement, therefore, means a double setback for Mr. Quigg, for he was Platt's choice for Senator as against Black before the reconciliation had been effected with Messrs. Payn, Black and Aldridge. Payn was not satisfied with merely getting Platt's consent to support Governor Black for Senator, but demanded that Mr. Quigg be shelved entirely. Before securing the cooperation of the State combine in his Mayoralty fight Senator Platt had to make these concessions.

Tribe Deserted Worth.
On the other hand, Black, Payn and Aldridge agreed to desert their former ally, Jacob Worth, and they added Platt to defeat him in Kings County. They also consented to support Lieutenant-Governor Woodruff for the gubernatorial nomination next year in case Governor Black is elected to the Senate. Their candidate for Governor was Superintendent Aldridge, but they were willing to accept Woodruff in order to insure Governor Black's selection as the Republican candidate for the Senate.

Payn's animosity toward Quigg dates back to the investigation of the Bremer's salary bill which was instituted by Quigg. Charges of bribery were made against Payn, and from that time he has persistently fought the County Chairman.

The efforts to drive Quigg from the County Chairmanship, however, are not confined to Payn and his associates in the State combine. The movement is receiving the assistance of influential district leaders, who are dissatisfied with Quigg's management of the present campaign. As stated in the Journal at the time, Platt's slate of county candidates was forced upon the district leaders over protests, not a single candidate on the ticket except District Attorney Oloffe, proved really acceptable to the leaders. The entire ticket was selected without consultation with them. Many of the leaders had candidates of their own, and Quigg's action aroused a bitter feeling. Smith Pine and John Windolph were candidates themselves, and each had several supporters in the caucus, but they were turned down.

Lauterbach Gains Strength.
On the other hand, Edward Lauterbach has lost none of his following in the machine. If anything, he has strengthened himself. The wisdom of his advocacy of a straight party ticket in the beginning of the campaign, it is pointed out, has been proved by every development in the campaign. The reception accorded him at the Republican City Convention is cited as an evidence of his popularity with the rank and file of the machine.

It is said that Mr. Quigg is not blind to the hostile forces which are springing up about him, and that he is endeavoring to intimate friends that he intended to retire from politics for good after election. It is believed that Senator Tracy will be friendly with Mr. Quigg's administration of the County Committee, as his plans were faithfully executed. It is also believed that the Senate will make it necessary for the Senator to accede to the demands of his former enemies in the State combine.

THIS IS THE LAST DAY FOR REGISTRATION.

FALSE ACCUSERS BOTH.

Mother and Daughter Confess They Made a Horrible Charge Against Husband and Father.

Conchetta Pecorella and her daughter, Kate, of No. 135 Railroad avenue, Jersey City, appeared before Justice Potts a week ago and accused Joseph Pecorella, the girl's father, of a terrible crime. Clerk Higgins warned mother and daughter of the serious nature of the charge, and questioned them separately. Their stories were identical, and Pecorella was arrested and held in $1,000 bail, which he furnished after being in jail for two days.

When the case was called yesterday Justice Potts stood where he could face his daughter, and kept his eyes fixed upon her while she was testifying. She trembled violently, hesitated, and finally blurted out that her previous allegations were wholly untrue. Her husband and father, who were present, and in a rage she testified against him, she sobbed.

The girl stuck to her story and finally gave so hysterical that she was sent from the room and her mother called in. Mrs. Pecorella also confessed that she and her daughter had perjured themselves for revenge upon their husband and father.

Justice Potts finally adjourned the case, as he was not satisfied that Pecorella has set aside under influence of his wife and daughter to make them deny their allegations, and will communicate with Prosecutor Windolph before taking further action in the matter.

NUT PICKING WAS FATAL.

Little Tommy Farley Fell Seventy-five Feet and Struck His Head Upon a Stone Wall.

Haverstraw, N. Y., Oct. 15.—Tommy Farley, a lad of thirteen, lost his life while gathering hickory nuts on what is known as the Clover road here, yesterday. Farley and his companion, a lad of his own age, named Chester Ganson, started after school hours for a large hickory tree, which they had been waiting to ripen since the summer months.

Farley climbed to the top to knock down the nuts for Ganson to pick up. The limb upon which Farley stood broke, sending him to the ground, a distance of seventy-five feet. He struck his head upon a stone wall, and Ganson, finding him unconscious, rushed off for help. Farley was taken to his home, but died in a few hours. The lad's father is now in the New York Hospital, suffering from severe injuries received by being crushed while at work on a brick barge.

VINEYARD LAID WASTE.

Bradley County (Ark.) Citizens Resort to Desperate Means to Stop Wine Bibbing.

Little Rock, Ark., Oct. 15.—One of the largest and most valuable vineyards in Bradley County has just been destroyed by a mob of enraged citizens. For several years a beautiful vineyard has been growing about eight miles south of Warren, the product of which has been converted into native wines.

It is alleged that the sale of the beverage has led to much drunkenness among young men and boys. Neighborhood gatherings have been disturbed and orgies become of common occurrence.

A meeting of citizens was held at Farmerville at which it was resolved that the vineyard was the primary cause of the disorders, and the citizens proceeded in a body to the vineyard and destroyed it.

NEGROES USE THEIR RAZORS.

Take Vengeance on Musicians Who Refuse to Play at Their Dance.

Chicago, Oct. 15.—"Razors were flying through the air" at a negro dance, at No. 6142 Halsted street, last night. A band was engaged to play, and just before the grand march the leader of the musicians demanded that he and his associates be paid. The negroes had no money and, after an argument, they flew at the musicians with razors. Six men were slashed and one of them, Barney Reed, will die. Policeman George Jones was also cut.

Lawyer Evans Accused Again.

District-Attorney Oloffe instructed Assistant District-Attorney Henry C. Allen yesterday to investigate for the Grand Jury the charges made by Maurice Ryland against Lawyer Amos H. Evans, of No. 369 Broadway. Ryland, as told in the Journal yesterday, charged that Evans obtained from him by false pretences $1,000. Evans denies Ryland's charges, and has retained Battle & Weeks to look out for his interests.

GORMAN WILL GIVE UP ALL FOR PEACE.

Offers the Leadership of Maryland's Democracy to Publisher Abell.

Baltimore, Oct. 15.—Senator Gorman, wearied by the attacks upon him made by Publisher Edwin F. Abell, of the Baltimore Sun, has, in an open letter, offered to yield the leadership of the Maryland Democrats to Mr. Abell provided he will support the Democratic ticket in the coming State and Legislative campaign. He also intimates that he will forego his ambition to succeed himself in the United States Senate if it can be shown that such a step is necessary to Democratic success.

The letter, which is very long, reviews the course of the Sun in its opposition to Mr. Gorman because of his views upon civil service, tariff and ballot reform measures. Mr. Gorman defends his course in regard to all these questions, and concludes with the following proposition:

"And now, Mr. Abell, you have declared your undying devotion to the Democratic party, and have said that my leadership, my personal ambitions, my selfish purposes, and these only prevent you from being so understood, that you still love the Democratic party, and still wish to see it predominant in Maryland, and you thereby involve yourself in a pledge to cast off your Republican affiliations, repudiate your Republican alliances, and labor heart and soul for the success of the Democratic party, as it will remain after being purged of me."

The Solution Simple

"If you be sincere in this the solution of the difficulty is simple enough. If my aspirations, my leadership, my influence constitute the only obstacles to your return to the people who made your newspaper and founded your fortunes and gave reality to your position and your power, I stand ready to remove them. Office is less to me than you suppose. Political leadership is not so necessary to my happiness as you think. I have no personal ambitions. I will not sacrifice for the success of the Democratic party, as it will remain after being purged of me."

Baby in a Paper Bag.

A month-old baby was found wrapped in a paper bag in the hallway at No. 881 Morris avenue last night. Henry White lives there. Policeman Brown took the foundling to Bellevue Hospital. The child was attired in a silk slip and nicely embroidered hood.

hope for further life without your aid and countenance. I am prepared for that. I have been misunderstood by you so long and so unreasonably that a little more or less will count for nothing. As a matter of fact, I am satisfied that the people of Maryland have become disgusted with the two years of Republican mis-administration, that they are in the humor to make an end of the experiment.

Abell Is Silent.

"They feel that every substantial interest in the State is jeopardized, and they are determined, with or without your aid, to restore to power the Democratic party, which has never hitherto betrayed them, and in whose hands they will feel their honor and their interests to be secure. But they want, also, a restoration of the former harmony of the party. And I owe them so much as to feel not only willing, but anxious, to consummate any wish of theirs, no matter at what cost to me."

"Are you at liberty to take charge personally and through your agents, of the Democratic campaign for the Mayoralty of Baltimore, for the Legislature, and for the succession to that place in the Senate concerning which I have but one desire—that of seeing it filled by a Democrat, whose loyalty to the party is unquestioned and proved, and who will advocate and uphold the principles to which you profess myself and sincere devotion? If you are, I am ready to meet you more than half way. Let me hear from you, and let our fellow citizens judge between us by the measure of our personal good faith and party loyalty therein."

Mr. Abell declined to say what course he would pursue in the matter, or to express any opinion concerning the letter, which will appear in the Sun to-morrow as a paid advertisement.

Political Notes.

COCKRAN HOLDS OFF FOR A RAISE.

His Figure for Supporting
Tracy on the Stump
Stupefies Quigg.

The Republican campaign managers have been unable to arrange terms with Bourke Cockran as speechmaker for General Tracy. The Kings County Committee had expected Cockran to speak at the Tracy meeting in Brooklyn on Monday night, and had even ordered the bills printed, but Mr. Quigg called a halt yesterday. He said that Cockran would probably go on the stump later in the campaign.

The hitch is over the pay. In the McKinley campaign Mark Hanna gave Cockran, it is understood, as much as $500 a speech. That, however, was when Wall Street men and the protected manufacturers were pouring money into the National Committee's hands.

Mr. Cockran has been urged to fix a cut rate for speaking for Tracy, but having in view future campaigns, Mr. Cockran is hesitating before establishing a cut rate precedent. The exact figure he has set is not known, but whatever it is, Mr. Quigg, being of thrifty Long Island stock, considers it too high. Still, if the corporations come up handsomely with cash it is probable that Mr. Cockran will be heard talking for Tracy.

Incidentally, the delay is due to a clever scheme Mr. Quigg has on hand. He plans to have the Republican National Committee foot the Cockran speech-making bill. Senator Platt is pulling the wires.

The argument is that the Tracy campaign is being made almost exclusively on national issues and Cockran will speak on national issues almost exclusively.

Mr. Quigg has promised the Republican leaders, however, that all these vexatious questions will be settled within a few days.

IS YOUR MEMORY GOOD?

"How interesting it is to think over the past and what a blessed thing is memory. How it brings up the pleasures of bygone days and hides their unpleasantnesses!"

"You recall your childhood days, do you not, and wish they would return? You remember the pleasant associations, while the unpleasant ones are forgotten. Perhaps to your mind comes the face of some friend. It was once a pale, sad face. It showed marks of pain, lines of care. It seemed to be looking into the hereafter, the unknown future."

"And then you recall how that face brightened, how it recovered its rosy hue, how it became a picture of happiness and joy."

"Do you remember these things? Many people do, and gladly tell how the health returned, how happiness came back, how the world seemed bright. They tell how they were once weak, nervous, perhaps in pain, certainly unhappy. They tell of sleepless nights, restless days, untouched food, unstrung nerves. And then they tell how they became happy, healthy and strong once more."

"You have heard it often in the past, have you not? You have listened while others described how they were cured and kept in health? You certainly can remember what it is that has so helped people in America. If not, listen to the following words of Mrs. H. E. Logan, a well-known lady of New York. She says:

"I was ill for over three years and employed some of New York's best doctors. Indeed I became so bad that I was swollen with dropsy from head to foot. But I have been restored to perfect health wholly by the use of Warner's Safe Cure. I am so gratified over my recovery that I feel that I should like every one to know what this grand remedy has done for me."

"Ah, now you remember. Now you recall how many people you have heard speak in the same grateful manner. Now you recollect how much you have been told about this great Safe Cure. Now you are ready to admit that memory is usually pleasing, that the highest pleasure comes from perfect health, and that this wonderful remedy has done more to produce and prolong health than any other discovery ever known in the entire history of the whole world."
